

CLIVE COATES, THE VINE
#235, AUGUST 2004, p. 42-43

DOMAINE MICHEL BRIDAY, RULLY

“Stephane Briday is another of Rully's first division wine-makers. He has been at the helm of this 12-hectare estate since 1988. He often wins a mediaille d'or for his Mercurey, which gets up the nose of the local producers.”

Rully 2002 White

Soft, ripe, a point and fruity. Medium weight. Good style. For drinking soon.

Rully, Gresigny, Premier Cru, 2002, White

This has a fresher nose. Good depth. Rather more vivacity and style. Very good fruit. Long. Very good plus. From 2005/6.

Mercurey, Clos Marcilly, Premier Cru, 2002, Red

Good colour. Rich, gently oaky nose. Good depth and grip. Stylish fruit. Ample, stylish and balanced. Very classy. Medium-full body. Still a little austere but very good indeed. From 2006.

