

Wine Spectator lauds Domain Christian Clerget's Echezeaux 2003

May 31, 2006
P. 106

91 Christian Clerget Echézeaux 2003 $120

Dark and packed with blackberry and plum flavors, this is rich and round, perhaps a little on the soft side for the long-term, with very finely woven tannins. It's hard to deny its appeal now, but it should develop well over the medium-term. Drink now through 2020. 50 cases imported.—B.S.