

Christian Clerget named as a Producer of the Year by Bourgogne Aujourd'hui

“Christian and Isabelle Clerget have incontestably reached a peak with their 2004 vintage, all selected in our “Vintage Special Issue” last June. One knows how the domaine has invested in the pursuit of quality over the last years, but it was a matter of climbing the step that still separated the best; now this is done. As for the recipe, Christian proclaims nothing revolutionary: “natural” viticulture, low yields, sorting table, and very careful vinification and elevage...that’s it!”
