

Praise for Domaine Corbis' 2004 Champelrose

WINE ENTHUSIAST

November 15, 2006
P 106

89 Domaine Courbis 2004 Champelrose (Cornas); $45. From old vines dating back to before World War II (in a warm portion of the appellation), this is a wonderfully fruity and supple Cornas. Loads of fresh raspberries burst from the glass, but give it some time and spice and mineral complexities begin to emerge. Drink now–2015. A Russell Herman Selection, multiple U.S. Importers. —J.C.
