

Wine Enthusiast applauds
Domaine le Couroulu's 2003 Vacqueyras offerings, praising the "...knockout aromas ..." of the Vieilles Vignes
and calling the Classique "...downright yummy."

NOVEMBER 15, 2006

WINE ENTHUSIAST

November 15, 2006, p 98

---

90 Domaine le Couroulu 2003 Vieilles Vignes (Vacqueyras); $30. Lovely stuff, boasting knockout aromas of herbal strawberries layered over ripe stone fruit. Flavors follow suit, carried aboard a lush, creamy mouthfeel. Then it finishes long and supple, gliding easily away on supremely ripe tannins. Drink now–2015. A Russell Herman Selection, multiple U.S. importers. —J.C.

88 Domaine le Couroulu 2003 Classique (Vacqueyras); $18. Not quite as good as the Vieilles Vignes bottling, but still downright yummy, this is loaded with red plum fruit that goes down all too easily. The mouthfeel is creamy and supple, the flavors true and satisfying. Drink now–2010. A Russell Herman Selection, multiple U.S. importers. —J.C.

---